

Celebrating the Richard Hillert Centenary (2023)

Music Suggestions

2023 marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of Richard Hillert, one of the most important Lutheran composers of our age. Below is a sampling of some of his works which might be performed during this centenary year. Some pieces are published (APH=Augsburg Publishing House, CPH=Concordia Publishing House, NPH-Northwestern Publishing House). Some were never published and are available only as a downloadable PDF from the Hillert archive on the website of the Center for Church Music: CUChicago.edu/center-for-church-music ("Composer Manuscript Indices/Richard Hillert"). Permission to perform those works should be secured from Kathryn Hillert Brewer at kathryn@brewer-com.com. Richard Hillert developed the decimal system used in the archive to indicate opus numbers. The first two digits indicate the year of composition; the last two digits show the sequence of composition in that year. The bold-face genre matches the sections of the archive.
